Cultural Resources Overview

The Cultural Resources Section is responsible for ensuring that TDOT projects receiving federal funds, licenses, or permits comply with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act and Section 4(f) of the U.S. Department of Transportation Act. The Section is staff with professional historians and archaeologists and based out of TDOT Headquarters in Nashville.

Cultural Resources staff works to identify historic properties that may be affected by TDOT projects. When such resources are identified, Cultural Resources staff assesses effects and work with internal and external stakeholders to avoid, minimize, or mitigate adverse effects. Key stakeholders include TDOT, Federal Highway Administration, State Historic Preservation Office, Tennessee Historical Commission, Tennessee Division of Archaeology, federally recognized American Indian tribes and nations, local governments, and members of the public.
